Chipboard Pads

Chipboard pads can be used for lightweight protection across a wide range of shipping and packaging applications. They're commonly used as envelope stiffeners, helping to prevent bending and creasing of important documents and photos during transit. Made with durable kraft fiberboard, these pads can also be used as the top layer inside a carton to shield contents from damage when opening said cartons. This simple yet effective package reinforcement is sold in case quantities.