Bubble Cushioning

Bubble wrap is not just for stress relief popping. It is almost essential to shipping for its exceptional cushioning and protective properties. Bubble is naturally lightweight, meaning it can help keep shipping costs low, and its flexibility allows it to fix most packaging containers. Outside of providing a protective layer, bubble wrap creates a moisture-resistant barrier to packaging that helps against moisture and humidity damage.