Packing List Envelopes

Packing list envelopes are an essential part of shipping and logistics. The self-adhesive, waterproof pouch secures itself to the outside of packages and stores documents such as packing lists and invoices. Transparent versions exist which allow you to easily identify the documents inside without having to open up the envelope, making for much more efficient processing by customs or shipping facilities. Not to mention, our packing list envelopes are durable, ensuring that the important documents within are protected from all environmental factors.