

IPG Polyolefin Shrink Film

For operations that need a shrink film that performs across a wide range of products, equipment, and environments, IPG polyolefin shrink film is the most versatile alternative to standard PVC. As a multi-layer film, it requires no dwell time, making it well-suited for high speed automatic lines and manual and semi-automatic equipment Its puncture resistance and ability to conform to irregularly shaped items make it perfect for products that don't wrap neatly and its very suitable for cold storage applications and FDA compliance. Finally, its high-gloss finish deliver a finished package that looks sharp on a store or warehouse shelf.
